I don't use the library in the United States. I know this is important for my English but I don't have time.. . For now, library can wait me.	Library assignments changed a little bit my life. Right now, I am not scary from library. When I have free time in future I can spend time in a library. It is not dangerous. I believe in library.
For me the library was only to study, not to borrow the books. (In S. Korea) For me, I often go library with my son together in Ballard library.	I have learned about call number, fiction, and nonfiction. Yes I will use libraries in the future because I know how to find books from fiction and nonfiction. I didn't know about it before. [this student was presumably the one who found out about story time for her son, as well]
No sample?	This quarter I learned a lot of new things about libraries. I had a good experience learning about libraries. I learned vocabulary such as check out and return. . . Another example where I can use the computer is when I want to check out some book, but I don't know where the book is. I can use the Internet to find the book and know in which library is. . . I like that college is interesting that student use libraries correctly. Now I feel sure that I can use better the library, and I feel that my interest about libraries changed because now I know more thins about good use of these.
There are many libraris in my country. All of them are public libraris and you can find books or information for free. American and Kyrgyz Library system is almost the same.	I used to have really basic information about NSCC Library. I thought there are only books shelf and computers. I was wrong. There are many options, resources, and possibilities to developing your skills and knowledge.
One time I need to pass the citizenship test. I went to library find the information I need. I studied in the library... The library has children section. Sometimes I bring my daughters go to library borrow the book they like.	In pass, I have already known about library, but this quarter I learned more about it. I learned how to use Internet to renew books and check books call number. I also learned how to find fiction and nonfiction books. However, one thing I very interest is in the library I can reserve a room for study.
I member SPL. I have a library card. I order on-line material. . . If my library branch doesn't have my order material they bring other library branch	Although I already used library, Jill and Elinor told us basic library vocabularies, what books call number are, how you use library catalog, what books clasificate are, and more.
